ARTICLE XIV
Main Motions

Who can make a motion?
Those participants who can make motions are as follows:
- Home Groups
- Group Service Representatives
- Subcommittee Chairpersons
- Treasurer
- Secretary
- RCM
- Policy Representative

When can a motion be brought?
All motions are to be submitted to the JAC Chairperson or JAC Secretary by email or in written form before the start of the JAC meeting. It is recommended that any member submitting a motion be present at the JAC meeting where that motion will be discussed.

If an issue arises during an ASC meeting that requires immediate attention, the Rules of Order can be suspended and a motion may be presented at that time. If the issue does not require immediate attention it may be handled at the following ASC meeting.

If a motion is entered on the floor and fails, that motion cannot be entertained for a period of six months.

What is the process for introducing a motion?
All motions are to be submitted to the JAC for review and disposition as per their committee guidelines. The ASC Chairperson will introduce all legitimate motions on the floor during New Business.

Seconding a motion
Motions brought by a home group do not need to be seconded.
A GSR must second all other motions. If there is no second the Chairperson will say, “The motion dies for lack of a second,” and the meeting shall continue.

After the second, if one is required, the Chairperson may rule the motion out of order or disallow the motion.

Which motions can be handled on the ASC floor and which cannot?
Any motions that pertain to the Area Service Committee or its subcommittees may be voted on the ASC floor by the voting participants.
All motions pertaining to the member groups and/or their purpose shall be tabled to the groups for a decision. The votes will be tallied at the next ASC.

If the Chairperson is in question as to whether a motion pertains to the ASC or to the groups, the Chairperson may call for a vote to decide whether it is dealt with by the ASC or by the groups. This will need a 2/3 vote. Failing that, the motion shall be handled at the ASC.
Regional motions that do not affect the groups may be handled on the ASC floor unless the motion specifically directs group input.

Debate on a motion
Debate is the formal exchange of views on an idea. Debate on motions is usually limited to two or three pros and two or three cons (speakers for and against the motion).

When does debate happen?
Debate happens prior to a vote.
Any motions that will be voted upon during the current ASC may be debated.
Motions that will be sent back to home groups may also be debated, but only during the ASC at which the motion was made, prior to the motion going back to home groups for vote.
The ASC meeting after a home group vote is for tallying of the votes only and no debate will be entertained at that time.

Voting
After debate on a motion is concluded, either by the absence of interest or by the Chairperson’s discretion, the motion comes to a vote or is sent back to the home groups.
Calculation of a vote should be done by a show of hands. If the motion affects an individual or a group, the individual or group members are asked to leave the room out of eye shot or earshot. At that time the vote should be calculated by a show of hands.
When accepting a new group in to the area, refer to Article IX, procedures for accepting a new group.
GSR/Alt. GSR will lose their group’s vote with two consecutive absences from the ASC Meeting.
GSR/Alt. GSR can regain their group’s vote by attending two consecutive ASC meetings. They will regain their vote during New Business of the second meeting.

Abstentions
The number of YES and NO votes determines a majority. Should participants abstain, their votes are not counted either for or against the motion. (i.e. there are 10 members present for a vote requiring a 2/3 majority. If 2 vote YES, 1 votes NO, and 7 abstain, the motion carries with a 2/3 majority).

Majority
This will be 2/3rds of the eligible voting members of the area.
Parliamentary motions can be best understood as "sub-motions" made during debate on a main motion that affect that motion in some way. There are many more of these than space and practicality permit us to include here, but a few that seem to be the most practical are discussed below.

Motion to SUSPEND THE RULES
TWO-THIRD majority required.
Is DEBATABLE.

Due to unforeseen circumstances, a body may find it necessary to suspend its normal rules in order to conduct the business at hand. At the point where the rules do not allow a certain course of action, a participating member may make the motion to suspend the rules until the particular issue is resolved. This motion must be seconded by a GSR and requires a two-third majority.

Motion to AMEND
SIMPLE majority required.
Is DEBATABLE.

This is perhaps the most commonly used parliamentary motion. During debate on a motion, if a member feels that the motion would benefit from a change in its language, that member can say, "I move to amend the motion..." and suggest specific changes in the motion. Ordinarily, an amendment must be moved and seconded before it can be debated. When debate on the amendment is exhausted, the body votes on the amendment. Then, debate resumes on the merits of the main motion (as amended, if the amendment has carried). When debate is exhausted on the merits of the main motion itself, a vote is taken and the body moves on to the next item of business.

If an amendment is offered and the persons making and seconding the original motion accept it, no second is required, no debate is called for, and no vote need be taken on the amendment; debate proceeds as if the main motion had been formally amended. This is called making a friendly amendment.

Motion to call the PREVIOUS QUESTION
TWO-THIRD majority required.
Is NOT DEBATABLE.

For our purposes, this may be the most important parliamentary motion. Use it often. This motion is made by a member saying, "I call for the question," or "move the previous question." It is another way of saying, "I move that debate stop right now and that we vote immediately." This is one of many motions that can be used to prevent needless, lengthy debate once an issue is clearly understood. This motion is in order after any speaker is finished. You need not be called on. The chair must recognize you when you make this motion, and a vote must be taken with no debate. If two-thirds of the body feels that no more debate is necessary, then it is time to vote and move on.

One point worth making about this motion is that you must be careful not to squelch debate before an issue has been thoroughly aired. Be sure to vote "no" to this motion if you are still confused about the issue at hand or are unsure of how to vote. By allowing debate to continue, we avoid half-baked decisions about half-understood questions. On the other hand, the liberal use of this motion makes it unnecessary for the chair to be heavy-handed in stopping discussion, because the chair knows you will stop it soon enough.

Motion to TABLE
SIMPLE majority required.
Is NOT DEBATABLE.

One way of disposing of a motion that is not ready for a vote is to table it. Saying, “I move we table this motion until such-and-such a date/meeting”, does this. This motion is not debatable; if it is made and seconded, it is voted on immediately. If it fails, debate continues on the motion itself. If it passes, the committee moves on to its next item of business. The tabled motion will be included in the committee agenda on the date specified.

Motion to REMOVE FROM THE TABLE
SIMPLE majority required.
Is NOT DEBATABLE.

A motion that has been tabled can be taken up before the time originally set in the motion to table. Saying, “I move to remove from the table the motion to such-and-such” does this. If this motion passes, the motion that had been tabled becomes the main motion and debate on it begins again. If the motion to remove from the table fails, the body moves on to the next item of business.

Motions to RECONSIDER or RESCIND
MAJORITY required varies.
Is DEBATABLE.

Sometimes a member feels that a motion the committee has passed will prove harmful. That member can move to either reconsider (reopen for debate and voting) or rescind (void the effect of) the original motion.

There are a few conditions on motions to reconsider or rescind:

- The motion must have been passed in either the last months or the current meeting.
- The member making the motion must have information on the issue that was not available in the original debate on the motion.
- The member must have been with the winning side in the original vote.

These limits are placed to protect the committee from having to reconsider again and again the motions it passes while still allowing it to examine potentially harmful situations it has created inadvertently. If any of these requirements are not met, the chairperson will declare the motion out of order. The motion to reconsider requires a simple majority provided that committee members were informed prior to the meeting that such a motion would be made. If prior notice is not given, the motion to rescind requires a two-thirds majority.

Request to WITHDRAW A MOTION
UNANIMOUS CONSENT required.
Is NOT DEBATABLE.
Once a motion is made and the debate begins, the maker of the motion may ask to withdraw it. The chair asks if there are any objections. If there is even one objection, the motion stays on the floor and debate resumes. If there are no objections, the motion is withdrawn and the body moves on.

Withdrawing a motion is not allowed after the Home Groups have discussed and voted on the motion. Only the vote tally occurs at the next ASC.

Offering a SUBSTITUTE MOTION

SIMPLE majority required.

Is DEBATABLE.

A substitute motion is the same thing as an amendment to a main motion. The only difference is that it is offered to entirely replace the original idea, instead of merely revising a portion of it. It is handled in the same way an amendment is handled.

Motion to ADJOURN

SIMPLE majority required.

Is NOT DEBATABLE.

Any voting member may move to adjourn at any time. This motion is always in order, is not debatable, and requires a simple majority to pass. Obviously frivolous motions to adjourn may be ruled out of order. After all business is finished, the chair may declare the meeting adjourned without a motion.

Other Procedures

In addition to parliamentary motions, there are other ways in which members may alter or clarify the proceedings. Here are a few of the most common.

Order of the day

If a committee member feels that business is going too far astray from the original agenda, that member can help get things back on track. The member says, "Call for the order of the day." This means, "I move that the chair bring us back on track and conduct the meeting according to procedure, adhering to the agenda." This does not require a second, is not debatable, and does not even require a vote--the chairperson is obligated to enforce the request unless two-thirds of the body tell the chair otherwise.

Point of information

If a committee member needs certain information before making a decision about a motion at hand, that member can say at any time to the chairperson, "Point of information." This means, "I have a question to ask," not "I have information to offer." One does not need a second to raise a point of information; it is neither debatable nor to be voted upon. The person raising the point of information may ask the question of either the chairperson or another member of the body.

Point of order

If it appears to a committee member that something is happening in violation of the guidelines, and if the chairperson has not yet done anything about it, the member can ask the chairperson for clarification of the rules at any time. The member may simply say out loud, "Point of order." The chairperson then says, "What is your point of order?" The member then states the question and asks the chairperson for clarification. If the chair agrees that the rules are not being followed, the chair says, "Your point is well taken" and restates the appropriate rule. If the chair does not agree, the chair says, "Overruled." This decision, as all others, can be appealed.

Point of appeal

Any time the chair makes a decision, that decision may be appealed. Any voting member who wishes to appeal a decision may do so by saying, "I appeal the decision of the chair." If the appeal is seconded, the chair then asks, "On what grounds do you appeal my decision?" The member states the reasons. The chairperson then speaks briefly to the intent of the ruling being appealed. The body may then debate the ruling and the merits of the appeal. A vote is taken, requiring a simple majority to overrule the original decision of the chair.

Parliamentary inquiry

If a committee member wants to do something but doesn't know how it fits in with the current guidelines, all that member has to do is ask. At any time, a member may simply say out loud, "Point of parliamentary Inquiry." The chairperson must immediately recognize the member so that person may ask how to do such-and-such. The chair will answer the question, possibly by referring to a specific passage in this document in explanation. A point of parliamentary inquiry needs no second, is not debatable, and is not voted upon.

Voting Procedures of Parliamentary Motions

There are several ways that votes can be taken. The most commonly used method is the show of hands. With rare exceptions, votes will be taken by a request from the chair to see the hands of all in favor, then all opposed. The chair should ask for all three categories every time, just to be thorough, even when the majority is overwhelming.
Addendum I

2.) Three-month commitment.
3.) Responsibilities: The Panel Leader leads or chairs the presentations each week. He or she is responsible to see that the presentation is started and ended on time, and conducted according to the chosen format. The Chairperson, along with the Co-chairperson maintains an atmosphere of recovery in the presentation.
4.) The Chairperson should attend at least one H&I Sub-Committee meeting a month and give verbal updates regarding the presentation they cover, except in cases where commitments are held by Pure & Simple NA Home Groups. (In the case of a Home Group holding a commitment, any member may attend to give the report.)

Co-chairperson

3.) There should be an emphasis placed on sharing experience, strength, and hope the NA way, and not on "war stories".

Panel Members
1.) Required three months clean time.
2.) Three-month commitment.
3.) Responsibilities – observe H & I presentations and learn.

Commitments Held By Groups
All policy concerning H&I commitments held by individuals also applies to commitments held by groups (Ex. Clean time requirement, length of commitment, etc.)
A group is required to send a representative to the monthly H&I Sub-Committee Meeting.
The group’s commitment will be revoked if there is no representative for more than two consecutive, regularly scheduled sub-committee meetings.

General Information
Any member of the H&I committee is automatically disqualified from further H&I activity upon relapse, but may again become eligible when he or she can conform to the requirements set forth.
Any member not conforming to the foregoing requirements, or to any others which may be added, or who refuses to abide by the rules and regulations of the institution being served shall automatically be relieved of any H&I assignments previously granted.
No meeting in this area calling itself Narcotics Anonymous shall have a direct affiliation with any institution, except under the direct supervision of this committee in cooperation with the ASC.
No H&I member will involve themselves with any other activity at the institution that this committee serves which may result in conflict or damage to:
• The patient/inmate inside the institution.
• The working ability and privilege of this committee to carry the message inside the institution. For these reasons, no H&I member will interfere with or use influence in any institution, court, hospital, nor with any judge, doctor, probation officer or parole officer. Nor will he or she make any comments or promises regarding employment, parole, probation or medical problems.

We carry ONLY the message of Narcotics Anonymous - recovery through spiritual principles.

Length of clean time required by each institution is to be rigidly upheld by all H&I members.

Narcotics Anonymous case histories (life stories) and/or NA principles or NA general information are to be the only topics of discussion at any presentation conducted in all institutions served by this committee. All H&I speakers must strictly comply with this regulation, confining their talks solely to Narcotics Anonymous.

Excessive use of vile or profane language or filthy stories is strictly prohibited by the authorities of all institutions, and by this committee, and is requested by the patients themselves.

NOTHING will be given to or taken from any patient/inmate, including messages.

A member of the H&I committee will be allowed to participate in or attend an H&I presentation in any institution being served by this committee only with the express clearance of that institution.

In order to assist the purpose of NA in carrying the message, H&I members should present the clients with NA literature stamped with the NA Helpline number.

It is suggested that all H&I members have a working knowledge of the 12 Steps and 12 Traditions through application.

Finally, since the purpose of the H&I committee is to share their experience, strength and hope through the NA message, it is hoped that all H&I participants in these presentations try to get the patients/inmates involved with the presentation through reading, identifying, sharing, etc.
